Replay Zero

Made from 100% Post Consumer Recycled Polyester, in 21 colourways

Made to move

Inspired by sportswear, RePlay Zero fuses the flexibility of a trainer with the performance of an athlete. A knitted appearance in a woven fabric, together with two-tone micro colour detail, creates a futuristic look that is straight out of the sports arena, onto furniture. Made from 100% post-consumer recycled polyester and free from added chemicals, RePlay Zero is future thinking, forward moving, and environmentally intelligent.

A cellular, knitted aesthetic

Made for the hybrid world, RePlay Zero blurs boundaries and enjoys doing it. It's here for the office at home, the workspace in the city, and the collaborative hub that's anywhere in-between. With its cellular, knitted aesthetic and subtle surface texture, this fabric brings a contemporary look and feel to any, and every, space.

Fun, flexible, and functional

A fabric with moveability and stretchability, RePlay Zero is as fun to work with as its name suggests. A multi-application recycled polyester that is both hard working, yet deceptively easy going, this is a fabric which upholsters superbly on furniture and panels, is acoustically transparent, bleach cleanable and has fantastic drape and handle.

An eco-friendly fabric which does zero harm

With zero harmful substances, RePlay Zero is PFAS free, EU Ecolabel, Indoor Advantage Gold and Oeko-Tex Standard 100 certified. Woven entirely from post-consumer recycled plastic bottles, this fabric does its part both to safeguard our precious resources and protect human health.

Playful palette

A 21-shade colour palette filled with personality, RePlay Zero flips between the bold brights of an extrovert to the muted tones of an introvert, without missing a beat. It has the bestselling shades you know and love, trend-led hues with an eye on the future, and the timeless neutrals you can't live without. A complex dye technique creates a multi-layered colouration which brings an appealing depth to each shade, and a two-tone detail for the smartest of finishes.
